Applicants will be deemed ineligible for admissions into the Queen’s School of Medicine program if they have:

1. completed an undergraduate medical degree or
2. completed an equivalent basic degree in medicine from a program in allopathic medicine that:
   o teaches medical principles, knowledge and skills at an LCME/CACMS accredited medical school, o includes at least 130 weeks of instruction over a minimum of 36 months, and o was at the time of the applicant’s graduation, listed in the World Director of Medical Schools published by the World Health Organization and/or FAIMER
3. been required to withdraw (except for medical reasons) from a MD program as stated in 1) or 2) above.